DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

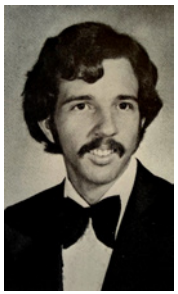

William "Rick" Norskov, '76, MD

Rick Norskov has distinguished himself as both a physician and educator, dedicating his career to serving others and helping students discover their calling. As a Southern student, he was encouraged by Professor K.R. Davis to pursue medicine and went on to earn his medical degree from Loma Linda University School of Medicine. After more than two decades in private practice and emergency medicine, he answered a new calling in 2006, returning to his alma mater as a professor in Southern Adventist University's Biology Department.

Throughout his years at Southern, Rick became known for his unwavering commitment to student success. Students consistently praised his engaging teaching style, accessibility, and genuine care for those he served. He sponsored the Pre-Medicine Club, connected students with research and internship opportunities, and spearheaded partnerships with leaders at Erlanger Health System that expanded research and internship opportunities for Southern students. He also helped aspiring physicians navigate the demands of professional education while remaining attentive to God's leading in their lives. Through the Encounter Club and other mentoring opportunities, he encouraged thoughtful conversations about science, faith, and vocation. Rick also developed a Plants in Medicine field class during his last 10 years at Southern, which highlights God's remarkable design and patterns in the natural world.

Rick's passion for helping students connect their career choices with God's calling became a defining focus of his work. He partnered with Southern's Center for Teaching Excellence to foster meaningful conversations about career and calling among students, faculty, and staff. These efforts helped inspire initiatives designed to encourage students to identify their God-given talents, explore vocational paths, and pursue careers aligned with their purpose. Through workshops, mentoring, classroom discussions, and campus programming, he influenced hundreds of students as they considered how their professional aspirations could become a form of service and ministry.

His dedication to students earned him the President's Award of Excellence for Commitment to Student Success in 2014. Today, Rick continues his service to Southern as a Lights Volunteer, extending a lifelong commitment to mentoring, service, and supporting the mission of his alma mater. His journey from Southern student, to physician, to professor, and now volunteer reflects a life devoted to helping others recognize and pursue their calling.

ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR

Bruce Coston, '83, DVM

Bruce Coston has distinguished himself as a veterinarian, author, leader, and dedicated supporter of Southern. While a student here, he immersed himself in campus life as a member of the Die Meistersinger male chorus, baritone in Southernaires Quartet, resident assistant, officer in both the Biology Club and Student Association, president of his graduating class, and Outstanding Senior in the Biology Department. After graduating with a degree in biology, he earned his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree from the University of Minnesota College of Veterinary Medicine, where he received the Award for Excellence in Clinical Research.

After completing a veterinary internship in Rochester, New York, Bruce and his wife, Cynthia, founded Seven Bends Veterinary Hospital in Woodstock, Virginia, growing it into a 4.5-doctor practice with 26 employees—the first primary care veterinary hospital in Virginia licensed to deliver nuclear medicine.

In addition to his clinical work, Bruce became an accomplished author. His books, Ask the Animals and The Gift of Pets, were published by St. Martin's Press and featured by The Virginia Festival of the Book, with The Gift of Pets appearing on the 2012 Los Angeles Times Summer Reading List. In 2021, he authored Far From the Norm, a biography of Norm Middag, a towering figure among Adventist Youth Directors.

Following his retirement from clinical practice in 2018, Bruce continued to influence the profession through leadership, mentoring, accreditation, and veterinary education. He served on the Virginia Veterinary Medical Association Board of Directors for more than a decade and received its Veterinary Service Award in 2018. Nationally, he chaired multiple American Veterinary Medical Association committees, contributed to veterinary education accreditation, and mentored managing doctors across the United States and Canada.

Bruce has also devoted significant time and energy to serving the Seventh-day Adventist Church and his alma mater. He has served in numerous church leadership roles and, on Southern's behalf, organized the Die Meistersinger reunion held during Homecoming Weekend 2024. He also played a key role in securing $250,000 in commitments that launched the Marvin Robertson Endowed Concert Series, which this year awarded more than $7,000 in student scholarships.

YOUNG ALUMNA OF THE YEAR

Jenée Lee, '17, PhD

Jenée Lee has quickly established herself as a scholar, advocate, and leader whose work is improving the lives of vulnerable communities. After earning her bachelor's degree in psychology from Southern, she completed a Master of Social Work at The Ohio State University and became a licensed social worker. She earned her PhD in 2025 from Virgina Commonwealth University, where her research was focused on housing insecurity, housing quality, and housing inequality, particularly among marginalized families, with the goal of advancing dignity, stability, and justice through both scholarship and service.

Since graduating from Southern, Jenée has built an impressive record of professional achievement. Her work has led to peer-reviewed publications, national conference presentations, community-based research initiatives, and programs that inform housing policy and practice. In recognition of her leadership and impact, she was named a Forbes 30 Under 30 Columbus Local Lister in 2025 and has received numerous awards for scholarship, service, and leadership throughout her academic career.

Beyond her research, Jenée has devoted her career to serving others through community engagement and advocacy. Through her work with the Columbus City Attorney's Office and other community organizations, she has helped connect families with critical housing resources, advocated for seniors and underserved residents, trained professionals, and developed innovative approaches to addressing housing and community challenges. She also serves as an educator and mentor, teaching social work courses and investing in the next generation of practitioners.

Her commitment to service began at Southern, where she served as a mentor in the First Year Experience program, worked as a teaching assistant and research assistant, led Southern's Psi Chi chapter, and participated in research projects that resulted in publication and conference presentations. Known for her servant leadership and passion for helping others succeed, Jenée continues to exemplify Southern's mission through a career dedicated to faith, service, scholarship, and community impact.

HONORED ALUMNI

GRADUATE STUDIES ALUMNUS OF THE YEAR

Francisco Ortiz, '16

Francisco Ortiz has dedicated his career to helping individuals and families navigate life's challenges through compassionate, accessible mental health care. After earning a bachelor's degree in psychology from Southwestern Adventist University in 2014, he completed a Master of Science in Clinical Mental Health Counseling at Southern in 2016. During his time at Southern, he served as a graduate assistant at the Summerour Counseling Center, helping expand mental health support for the campus and local community.

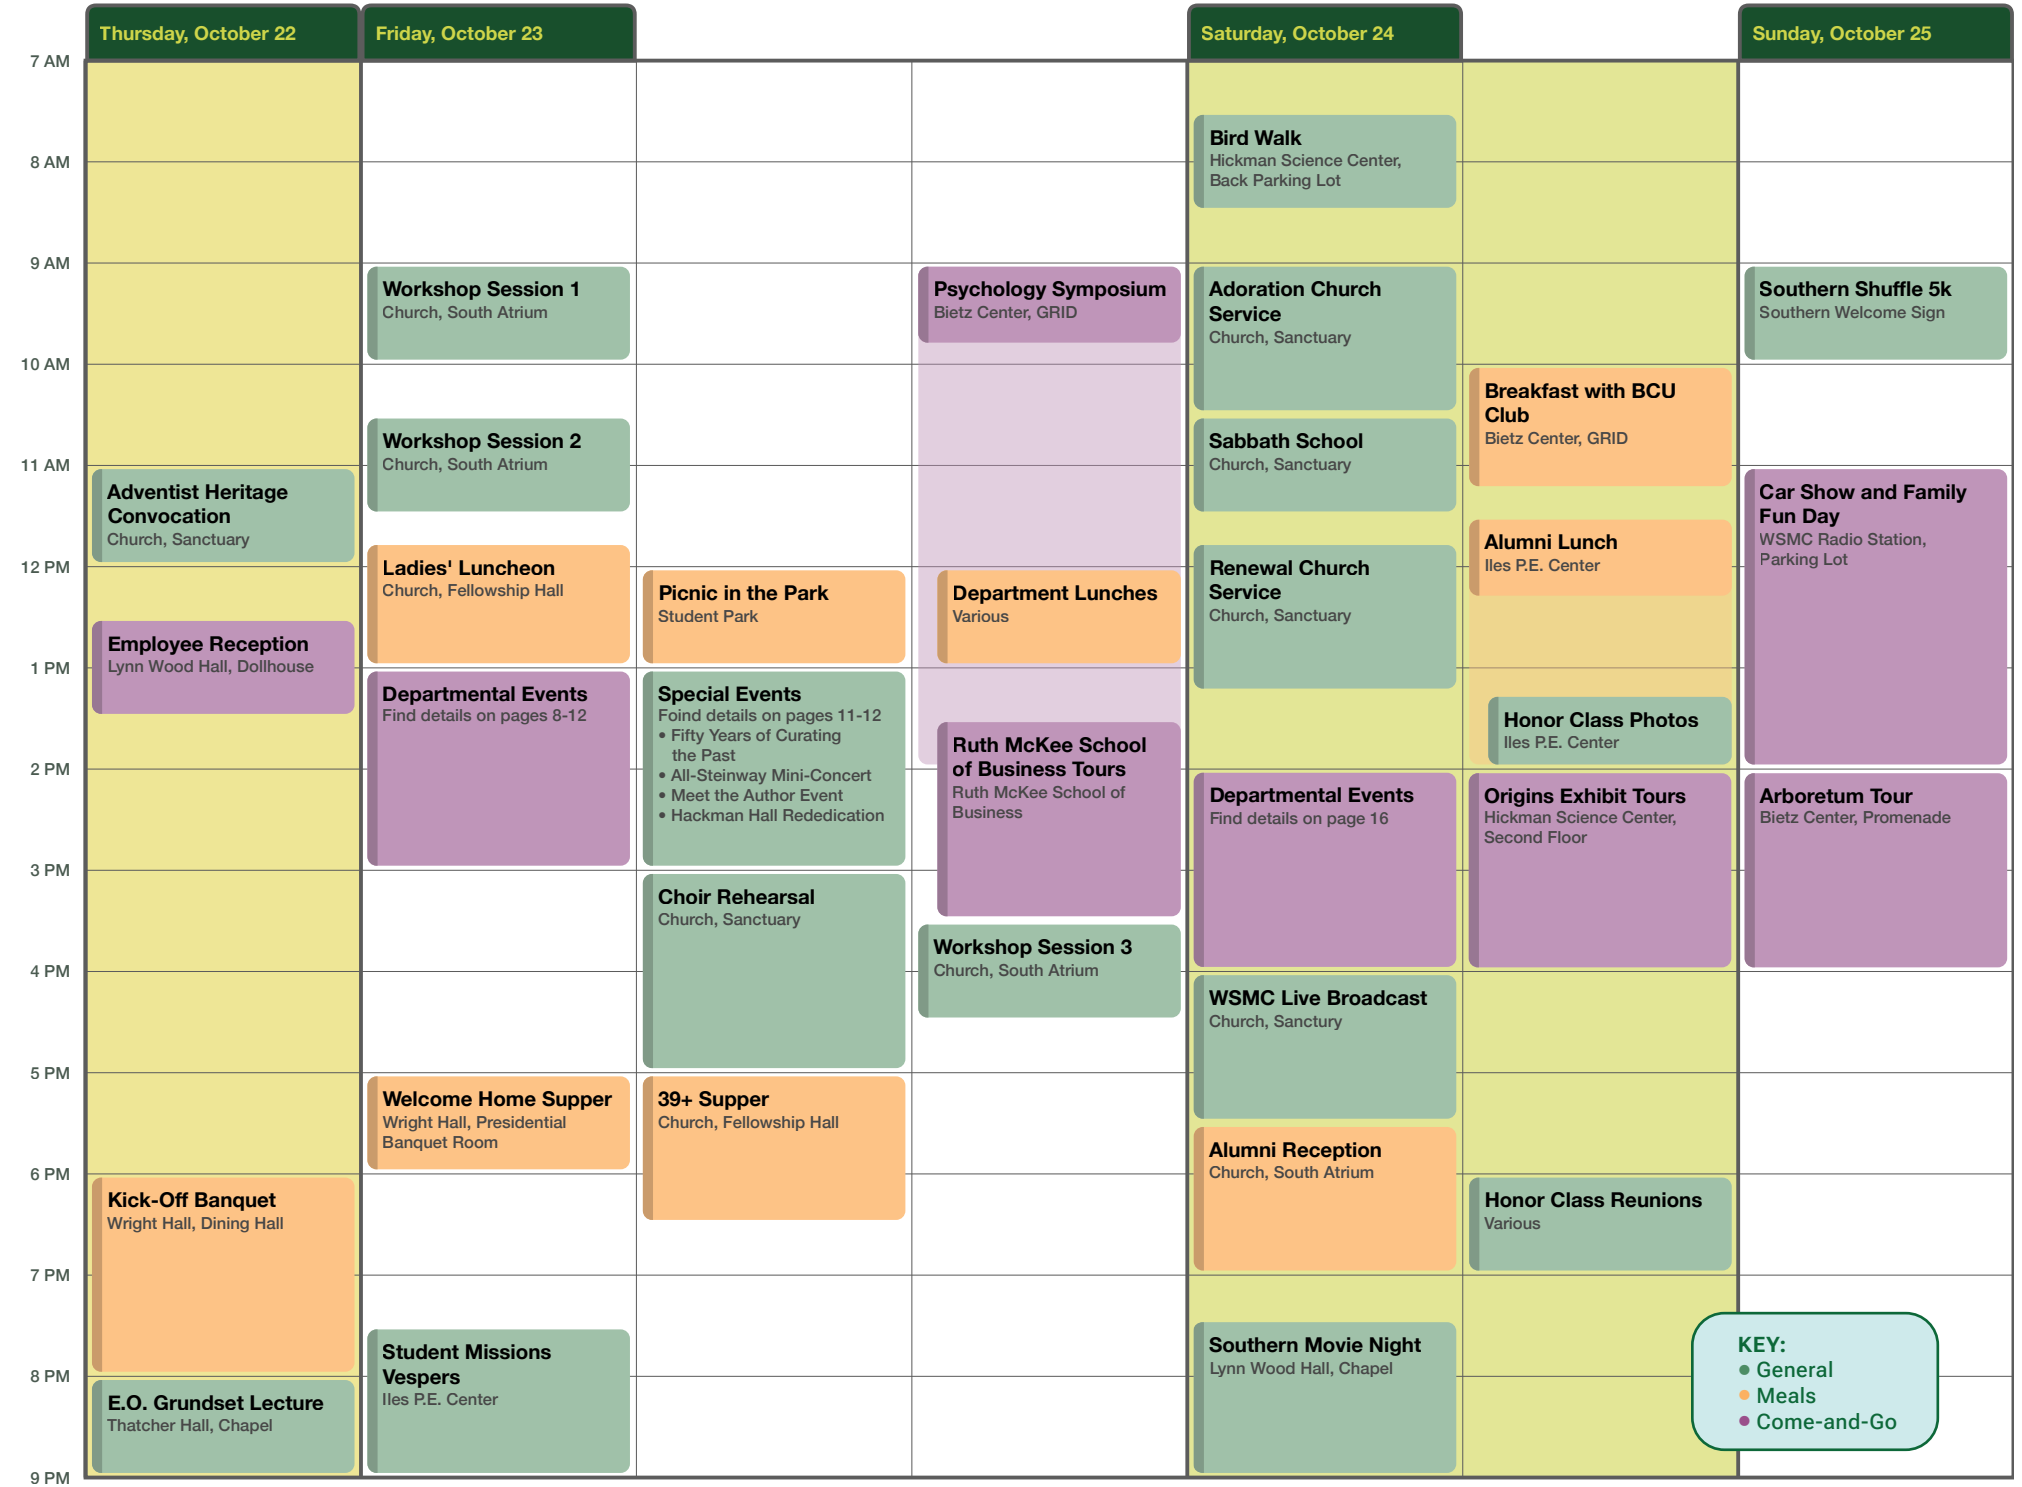

Following graduation, Francisco returned to his hometown of Houston, Texas, where he pursued his vision of increasing access to mental health services. After earning licensure as a Licensed Professional Counselor, he founded District Counseling in 2018. What began as a personal dream quickly grew into a thriving counseling practice focused on serving individuals, couples, and families, particularly within the Spanish-speaking community, where the need for culturally and linguistically responsive mental health care remains significant.

Today, Francisco is licensed in Texas, Florida, Virginia, Idaho, Utah, and California and has earned additional certifications in forensic mental health evaluation, brain health, anger resolution, crisis intervention, and relationship counseling. In addition to leading District Counseling, he serves as director of school-based clinical mental health services at Houston Adventist Academy, providing support for students and families while leading school-based counseling initiatives. He also contributes to the profession by supervising counselors in training through multiple universities and mentoring the next generation of mental health professionals.

Francisco's commitment to service extends beyond his professional practice. Through counseling ministries, crisis intervention efforts, community outreach, and pro bono mental health services for underserved individuals and families, he continues to make a meaningful impact in the communities he serves. His dedication to expanding access to mental health care, particularly for Spanish-speaking populations, reflects a lifelong calling to support those experiencing emotional and psychological pain.

WEEKEND CALENDAR

HONORARY ALUMNI

C.Y. Liu, MD, and Ruth Liu, EdD

Chung "C. Y." Liu, MD, and Ruth (Wang) Liu, EdD, have devoted their lives to service, leadership, education, and philanthropy, leaving an enduring impact on healthcare, higher education, and their community. Together, they have combined distinguished professional careers with a deep commitment to supporting others and advancing opportunities for future generations.

Born in China, Ruth immigrated to the United States as a young child and went on to build an accomplished career in nursing, higher education, and community leadership. She served in faculty and administrative roles at Loma Linda University, the University of Illinois, and Southern, co-founded and directed the East Tennessee Consortium for Higher Education, and contributed to scholarship, international consulting, and nonprofit leadership. Her research has been shared through professional conferences and peer-reviewed publications, and her consulting work extended internationally to healthcare and nursing education institutions in China and Taiwan. Following retirement, she chaired Southern's Keys for Excellence Campaign, helping the university achieve recognition as the 100th institution worldwide designated as an All-Steinway School. Today, she continues her commitment to service as chairman of the board for the Community Foundation of Greater Chattanooga.

Born and raised in Taiwan, C. Y. pursued a remarkable medical career that transformed women's healthcare globally. After training in Taiwan and the United States, he established his practice in Chattanooga and became an internationally recognized pioneer in gynecological endoscopic surgery. Through thousands of presentations, publications, and surgical demonstrations, he educated physicians across the globe and helped establish techniques that have become the standard of care. His innovations revolutionized gynecological surgery and continue to influence the practice of physicians worldwide. His professional leadership included service as president of the American Association of Gynecological Laparoscopists, one of the most respected organizations in his specialty.

The Lius' commitment to service has extended well beyond their professional achievements. Through philanthropy, community involvement, and medical mission work, they have invested in causes that improve lives and strengthen communities. In 2025, they were recognized as Philanthropists of the Year by the Southeastern Tennessee Chapter of the Association of Fundraising Professionals. Their connection to Southern runs deep through their family, including their son, Brian Liu, '00, DMA, an educator and arts leader, and their daughter, Lora Liu, '05, MD, an endometriosis specialist and surgeon. Four grandchildren enliven their lives, one of whom is planning to attend Southern next year. Through the Lius' generosity, professional accomplishments, and lifelong commitment to education and service, the Lius have enriched both Southern and the broader community they have faithfully served.

HONORED ALUMNI

HONORARY ALUMNUS

Ken Parsons

Ken Parsons' early years were spent in Colorado where he learned to love the mountains and music. His mother was a fine pianist and organist, his father a trumpeter, and Ken followed in his dad's footsteps. At 14, his family moved to Oregon, where both of those passions deepened.

He was in awe of his band director at Columbia Adventist Academy and made the decision to pursue music as a career. In 1983, he graduated from Walla Walla College (now University) with degrees in both music education and theology, along with a minor in speech communication. During academy and college, he spent five summers high in the Cascade Mountains at Big Lake Youth Camp, serving as counselor, archery instructor, and boys' director.

Ken taught band at Redlands Junior Academy in California from 1983 to 1985. During this time, he performed in wind and jazz ensembles at the University of Redlands and gave numerous chamber and solo performances. Following this, he completed a master's degree in brass performance at the University of Oregon.

From 1986 to 2000, Ken taught at Forest Lake Academy in Apopka, Florida. He grew the symphonic band to 72 members, and directed a student brass ensemble, percussion ensemble and brass quintet. Additionally, he formed the first jazz ensemble in an Adventist academy, which became a quite successful and popular group in central Florida. He developed an Enriched Honors in Music curriculum, which prepared musically-talented students to become university music majors. Additionally, he taught trumpet and directed the brass ensemble at Rollins College in nearby Winter Park. Most importantly, though, he met his wife Kristi, and their two children Kris and Kaarsten were born there. He did, however, miss the mountains.

In 2000, Ken was invited to teach at Southern. His primary responsibility—and great joy—was directing the Wind Symphony, seeking to enrich students through high-level engagement with significant literature for winds and percussion. With administrative encouragement, he formed the first officially-sponsored jazz ensemble in Adventist higher education. In an effort to further diversify the School of Music's performance ensembles, he spearheaded the founding of Southern Steel, a Trinidadian steel pan ensemble—the only one in the Tennessee Valley. Additionally, he taught trumpet, as well as music education and music appreciation courses, and directed the Collegedale Brass Choir, an ensemble of university students and faculty, and community players.

Ken retired in May, after 26 years of service to Southern—the longest tenure of any band director in Southern's history—and is enjoying traveling to his beloved mountains and finding all the best hiking spots around Collegedale.

LADY OF THE YEAR

Cherie (Merchant) Smith, '91

Cherie Smith has devoted her life to serving others through ministry, encouragement, and prayer.

After moving to Collegedale in 1981, she joined the team at Southern, where she served in a variety of administrative roles across Student Finance, Alumni and Public Relations, and Academic Administration. While working at Southern, she took the opportunity to pursue her own education, earning a Bachelor of Science in office administration with a minor in behavioral science in 1991. Throughout her years at Southern and beyond, she has been known for her deep love for God and people and her passion for helping others strengthen their relationship with Him.

In 1996, Cherie accepted a call to pastoral ministry as Community Chaplain at Collegedale Church of Seventh-day Adventists, beginning a ministry that would span 25 years. She later served as pastor of Nurture and Prayer at College View Church in Lincoln, Nebraska, before returning to the Collegedale Church as an associate pastor when the couple moved back.

Throughout her ministry, she was known for her compassionate care, support for those who were grieving, and dedication to helping others experience God's love and faithfulness. Prayer was always at the center of her ministry, as well as an unrelenting commitment to service. She's the kind of pastor who would show up to the hospital at 5:30 a.m. to pray with a church member before they went into surgery.

Cherie also faithfully supported Adventist education. For 18 years she served alongside her husband during his leadership of two Adventist institutions and, beginning in 2016, as Southern's First Lady. She especially cherished opportunities to connect with alumni and support students, faculty, and staff through prayer and encouragement. One expression of that care became a beloved Southern tradition as she baked thousands of homemade cookies to welcome students during registration.

Whether through ministry, volunteer service, hospitality, or personal encouragement, Cherie's life has reflected a steadfast commitment to faith, service, and caring for others. In retirement, she continues to encourage those around her through personal notes, birthday cards, and a book she is writing about how prayer has deepened her understanding of the unfathomable love of God. Her lifelong dedication to helping people and connecting them with God remains at the heart of all she does.

Margarita (Dietel) Merriman, '46, is here to celebrate her 80th anniversary reunion with us this year! We're honoring her by singing the song she wrote during the 1944-45 school year when she was studying here at Southern. It became the school's anthem for many years.

Please join us as we sing this together at the Kick-Off Banquet and 39+ Supper events.

THANK YOU TO ALL WHO HELPED

Our sincere appreciation goes out to our Alumni Council, university departments, and volunteers who helped make this weekend a very special occasion. Thank you to each alum and attendee who joined us for this year's Homecoming Weekend!
