

Because of You.

2014-2015 Annual Report

Because of You.

Gordon Bietz, president

Gordon Bietz

President's Message

Thank you for supporting Southern Adventist University. The 2014-15 school year has seen a lot of excitement:

- Exceptionally high attendance at Student Association events
- Seniors creating a $25,000 endowed scholarship as their class gift
- The largest ever graduating class at Southern
- Land dedication for the new student life center
- And my decision to retire next May (both exciting and sad)

We've also witnessed an abundance of generosity this year and been blessed by the impact that support had on students and the university. Thank you for giving of your time, talent, and treasure to help make it possible for many students, who may otherwise not have the resources, to gain the Southern Experience. Every gift counts for every student, every day! I trust that these gifts are a blessing to the giver, as well.

Enjoy the stories told and the impact shown in this annual report. It isn't Southern's story; it's your story. Every student at this school has been impacted by your investment in them, and your generosity helps prepare them to make a difference in the world.

I look forward to furthering our partnership with you as we seek together to shape the next generation of Southern students.

Because of You.

“This year, one particular scholarship was an answer to prayer. I had been asking God for a financial sign that I could serve as a student missionary, and the funds I received were the exact amount needed for me to do this!”

Tracy

never planned to attend Southern. After graduating from Mount Pisgah Academy, I was determined not to follow all my friends to Collegedale. It seemed there was no way I could afford it, and I thought it would just feel like a larger version of high school, anyway. I was leaning on my own understanding instead of trusting that God had a plan and could work everything out.

Following much prayer and research, plus a tour of Southern's campus, I ended up deciding to at least try attending. God has come through with miracle after miracle to provide for my college education, and I'm so glad for that!

I've just finished my sophomore year here at Southern, thanks to grants and the scholarships provided by donors. I've also found campus jobs to help cover my portion. Yes, I will have some loans when I graduate; however, I believe that by staying faithful to God and trusting in His will, I'll be able to pay those easily.

This year, one particular scholarship was an answer to prayer. I had been asking God for a financial sign that I could serve as a student missionary, and the funds I received were the exact amount needed for me to do this! I will be spending next year as assistant girls' dean at the Spanish Adventist Seminary in Spain and look forward to the adventures and opportunities for service that this opportunity brings. After that, I will be returning to Southern to finish my psychology degree.

I hope to one day give back to another student who may be in need or wanting to serve, just as others have supported Southern and made it possible for me to attend. God is forever faithful!

Because of You.

“I had some really amazing professors who integrated biblical values into their courses and taught us how to do so when we become teachers. During my time on campus they were both mentor and friend.”

Briana
Wever

Southern was the natural choice for me. My family lives in the area, and I enrolled as a journalism major—Southern has one of the best journalism programs in the Adventist education system—before eventually switching to study education. Throughout my semesters and degree changes, it remained important for me to graduate without loans. And by God’s grace and people’s generosity, I did in May!

It was great for me to be able to study at Southern. I had some really amazing professors who integrated biblical values into their courses and taught us how to do so when we become teachers. During my time on campus they were both mentor and friend.

Of course, I’ll miss the amazing relationships and bonds with classmates. We had a lot of fun mixed in with all the learning. But now that I’ve graduated, I’m looking ahead. I’ll be teaching grades 3-8 in northeastern Tennessee. My goal is to model a relationship with God that’s attractive and exciting, so they are drawn into a closer connection with Him.

To all of those who have given so students like me can succeed at Southern and beyond, I just want to say thank you. It has meant so much to graduate debt-free and go straight into a teaching job at an Adventist school. None of this would have been possible without scholarships. Your sacrifices were such a blessing to me; I can’t thank you enough!

Because of You.

Seeing Ebel's transformation gives Garrido hope for his and his family's future. His shouts of "I love God!" continue to ring out, and with God's help someday they will touch his family's hearts.

Loany Garrido

Loany Garrido, junior allied health major, spent the 2014-15 school year as a student missionary in Majuro, Marshall Islands, teaching second graders about math, reading, and Jesus. While there, she learned sometimes it's little things that make the biggest difference. Ebel is a second grader in Majuro, and one of Loany's students with whom she became good friends. At first, he was just a curious little boy; over the year, however, he became a disciple of Jesus. But this didn't mean things were easy.

In Majuro, poverty is common. Ebel and his family live in a one-room house and all sleep on the floor. His family is Mormon, but Ebel believes what he's learning in class and goes to the Adventist church every week. None of his family will join him, yet Ebel isn't giving up. He brings as many as 15 friends to children's church and attends the middle school Bible studies to learn all he can.

Seeing Ebel's transformation gives Loany hope for him and his family's future. His shouts of "I love God!" continue to ring out, and with God's help someday they will touch his family's hearts.

The love that Loany shared with Ebel changed his life and helped him understand God's character. Love can do this anywhere, as long as it has the opportunity to be shared. ~ by Gavin Finch, sophomore Communication Studies major

The Street Store

For its 22nd annual Community Service Day in January, Southern took approximately 1,000 students and staff off campus to volunteer. Several of those set up shop on sidewalks in Chattanooga, building a temporary “Street Store” for the homeless outside of the Salvation Army’s downtown headquarters. More than 750 pieces of clothing donated by the campus community hung neatly from cardboard hangers on fences as students rushed back and forth helping customers find exactly what they needed. Approximately 250 visitors came through that day for an unusual shopping experience. The event was designed to provide clothing for the homeless while giving them the chance to decide for themselves what they wanted instead of blindly accepting handouts. So along with shirts and shoes, they were given dignity and hope.

“The Southern students were so passionate,” said Kimberly George, marketing and development director for the Salvation Army. “They understand what it means to serve and share the love of Jesus through their hands and feet.”

Southern’s Christian Service Program makes service-learning (volunteer work that applies academic training) and community service a part of the general education requirement. In a four-year college career, students complete a minimum of 39 hours of service work.

“William was so excited! He understood that WSMC provided people with something they wouldn’t have otherwise, and that by giving others could create their own memories while listening to the station.”

WSMC

WSMC brings peace, joy, and inspiration locally and across the world, thanks to you! This past year, Southern’s radio station received gifts from people ranging in age from 9 to 100, and donations ranged from $1 to $100,000. Here’s the story of WSMC’s youngest donor, William, as told by his mom:

Before William was born I listened almost exclusively to talk radio. As our family expanded, so, too did our taste in entertainment. We all grew to love classical music, and WSMC is now a part of our daily lives. We listen to the station when we’re cooking, during our meals, and when we’re driving.

Last spring, on the final day of its membership drive, William heard WSMC ask for money to support the station and wondered aloud if he could send in a gift. I discussed this with him and we agreed that it was a good decision to give to the station. William was so excited! He understood that WSMC provided people with something they wouldn’t have otherwise, and that by giving, he could help others create their own memories while listening to the station.

We made the call and you would have thought William had offered $1 million instead of $1 by all the fuss. Even though his small gift won’t fund all of the programs at WSMC, that didn’t stop him from giving. He knows that when everyone chips in, big things happen. That’s why this spring, William gave again and increased his support for the family’s favorite station to $1.50!

Because of You.

“Nearly all of us have struggled financially at some point,” said Janice Cosme, class president. “That’s why it was so important for us to help students have the same awesome experience that we had.”

Class Gift 2014-2015

s a way of saying thank you for their education and experience here at Southern, each year’s graduating class chooses a project to support. This year, the December and May graduates pooled their resources to create the Student-to-Student Endowed Scholarship.

“This fund is a way for us to leave a legacy by helping future students get a degree and make a mark of their own,” said Vianca Torrez, campaign manager for the Class of 2015. “This will decrease the financial worries that can distract them from reaching their full potential.”

Developing an endowed scholarship requires a minimum gift of $25,000 that gives out at least $1,000 each year in perpetuity. Though they have three years to build the endowment, it is a big goal for this group to take on—more than five times the amount of the average class gift!

Along with giving of their time to organize a 5K fundraiser for this scholarship and making gifts themselves, class officers Janice Cosme, Katie Robidoux, Erin Grube, Anthony Whitlow, Vianca Torres, Maurice Fider, and Elizabeth Camps have committed to future work as well. They will continue reaching out to former classmates during the next two years for assistance in growing the scholarship.

“Nearly all of us have struggled financially at some point,” said Janice Cosme, class president. “That’s why it was so important for us to help students have the same awesome experience that we had. We just want to pay it forward and give something that keeps on giving.”

As of this report, the class has given and raised $7,212 toward the new endowed scholarship.

Because of You.

Your commitment, financial support, and leadership is vital to the Southern Adventist University mission as a learning community to nurture Christ-likeness and encourage the pursuit of truth, wholeness, and a life of service. Whether you supported the Southern Fund, missions, WSMC, scholarships, or another area of campus, your generosity has made an impact on our students, our community, and our world. Thank you!

President's Circle 100 supporters have given a total of $2,500 or more during the fiscal year (June 1-May 31).

Loyalty Circle partners have made gifts for three or more consecutive fiscal years.

Legacy Society members have included a future gift to Southern through their will, trust, or charitable gift annuity.

Lights Volunteer supporters have given their time to impact Southern this fiscal year.
