About the Artists...

Gennevieve Brown-Kibble, D.M.A. joined the faculty at Southern Adventist University's School of Music as Director of Choral Studies in 2005. In addition to her work with choral ensembles, she teaches applied voice, choral conducting, music history and interdisciplinary studies. Gennevieve has performed as a member and soprano soloist with several community choirs, including Choral Arts of Chattanooga and the Chattanooga Bach Choir. She is an exuberant pannist, playing the tenor pan in Southern's Steel Band. Prior to her appointment at Southern, Gennevieve was the Director of Choral Studies at Pacific Union College in Northern California. She also taught at Auburn and Columbia Academies in Washington State. Under her direction, choirs have performed in Australia, Brazil, Canada, Finland, Italy, Norway, Russia, Sweden and in the United States. Gennevieve earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Music Education at Andrews University, a Master of Music degree in Vocal Performance at Indiana University and the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Choral Conducting at The University of Arizona.

Ken Parsons is Associate Professor of Music at Southern Adventist University. Mr. Parsons directs the Wind Symphony, Jazz Ensemble, Brass Choir, Brass Quintet, and serves as Assistant to the Dean of the School of Music. He also teaches various music education courses as well as applied trumpet.

Before coming to Southern in 2000, Mr. Parsons taught at Forest Lake Academy in Apopka, Florida for 14 years, beginning in 1986. He also taught at Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida, and Redlands Junior Academy in Redlands, California.

Mr. Parsons holds bachelor's degrees in music education and theology from Walla Walla College, and a Master of Music degree in Brass Performance from the University of Oregon. He has performed extensively on trumpet in various orchestral, wind and jazz ensembles and as a soloist in the Northwest, Southern California, Florida, and Tennessee.

Laurie Redmer Cadwallader, a violinist, violist, and vocalist, holds a Bachelor of Music degree in Music Education from Atlantic Union College and Master of Music degrees in both Viola Performance and Conducting from New England Conservatory of Music. She has conducted the Young People's Philharmonia, the Salisbury Singers, Symphony Pro Musica, and the Maryland Consort of Instruments. She has been on the faculties of Columbia Union College, Takoma Academy, Greater Boston Academy, New England Conservatory Extension Division, South Lancaster Academy, the Walnut Hill School for the Arts, and the Thayer Conservatory of Music.

Mrs. Cadwallader has performed with the Boston Philharmonic, Symphony Pro Musica, the Salisbury Lyric Opera, the Salisbury Chamber Orchestra, the Huntsville Symphony Orchestra, and the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra. Her performance experience includes concert tours of Europe, Australia, Asia, Russia, and the United States as a violinist, violist, vocalist, and conductor. She is frequently a clinician at music festivals around the United States.

Prior to her current appointment, Mrs. Cadwallader was Assistant Professor of Music at Columbia Union College, and the director of choirs at Takoma Academy from 1998 to 2000. She was head of the music education program, taught viola, violin, and conducting, and administered the Preparatory School of Music at Columbia Union College. She also conducted the Sligo Seventh-day Adventist Church choir.

Mrs. Cadwallader joined the faculty of Southern Adventist University as associate professor of music in 2000. In addition to her responsibilities as conductor of the SAU Symphony Orchestra, she teaches viola, violin, string methods, elementary and secondary music methods, and conducting.
