Guidelines for Three-Way Scholarship Match

- The Three-Way Scholarship is available for students currently enrolled more than six credit hours at Southern Adventist University.
 - Students enrolled in six to eleven credits in a semester will receive a maximum of $125 scholarship match by Southern for that semester.
 - Students enrolled in less than six credits are not eligible.
- The maximum scholarship match by Southern will be $500 per student per year, awarded at a maximum of $250 per semester, and will be applied only after the local church and conference funds have been received in full.
- Students receiving educational subsidy from a Seventh-Day Adventist institution are not eligible for these matching funds.
- Students receiving a full tuition scholarship will have their academic scholarship reduced dollar for dollar by any Southern Three-Way Scholarship award.
- This scholarship match is available to undergraduate students seeking their first associate or bachelor's degree, including international students.
- The conferences will receive funds from the churches and remit a combined scholarship total to Southern. Conferences should include who the check is for and that the funds are for the Three-Way Scholarship Match.
